Ninety-eight per cent of the homes in the Lower Mimbres Valley receive a weekly visit from the

COLUMBUS COURIER

All those who do their shopping in Columbus read the Courier. Tell them what you have to sell through its columns.

Reasons why you should read SUNSET, The Exposition Magazine

The Only Magazine containing up-to-date news relative to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, San Francisco, 1915, and the Panama-California Exposition, San Diego, 1915. Illustrated in colors

SUNSET should be read by every automobileist because it presents monthly articles of interest concerning delightful trips. At the present time a series of splendid illustrated articles by E. Alexander Powell, F. R. G. S., is coming. Mr. Powell tells of a trip from Tijuana on the Mexican line to British Columbia. The trip was of such magnitude and of such absorbing interest that twelve articles are necessary to describe the events. This is declared by our readers to be the best automobile series ever published by any magazine in the United States.

Fiction lovers should read SUNSET because we are sparing no expense to purchase the best efforts of the best writers in America today.

A ripping good tale is that by William H. Layton, author of the "Billy Fortune" stories.

"The Man Who Was," a serial of absorbing interest by this famous story teller has just begun.

Another serial by the author of the "Lanagan Stories" will start shortly, an intenseあげる detective story of San Francisco society life.

It is a corker. Each month SUNSET presents three or four stories by the best known American authors. They are equal to the best you will find in any magazine.

Business men will be interested in the series of articles soon to start by Arthur Storch, a well known writer who is now touring the islands of the Pacific and Eastern oceans, digging up vital statistics and information relative to the impending contest for the supremacy of the Pacific. The opening of the Panama canal will cause some lively scrambling for the great trade that is sure to flow through it. Who will get the bulk of it? Why should the merchants of the U. S. be alert and on the job? There will be plenty of meat in these articles. Mr. Street is going right after the real stuff that will mean dollars to American business men.

SUNSET each month contains color pictures that are undoubtably the most beautiful carried in any magazine. Those wonderful color pictures have set SUNSET apart from other magazines as distinctive. Not only are they photographic reproductions of scenes on the Pacific coast, but they are carefully colored by one of the best color artists in America. Every issue contains pictures worth framing.

Have you read our department "Pulse of the West?" It is the real meat in the coconut concerning things western. This department is conducted by Walter V. Woelke, acknowledged the best posted man on western topics writing today.

COLUMBUS, NEW MEXICO

¶ The place where the desert is being reclaimed by pumping water upon the land.

¶ The place where the water is inexhaustible, and as pure as the snows of the mountains.

¶ The metropolis of the Lower Mimbres Valley, than which there is no more promising irrigable valley anywhere.

¶ Port of entry to Old Mexico. This alone will make the place one of importance and add much toward making it a city.

¶ Unite the finest soil the richest water the most abundant and the purest. These superlatives but tell the truth.

¶ Situated on the El Paso & Southwestern railroad, 74 miles west of El Paso, in the celebrated
